

Kauri

The logging and reforestation

In the past the Wairere Boulder valley has been populated by many majestic Kauri trees.

Picture: Wairere Boulders
by D.L. Mundy (1873)
Auckland Museum.

Picture: Stump of Kauri, about 130 years after it had been cut down.

Wherever we find a Kauri stump we plant again a young tree there. In a thousand years the valley will hopefully have regained its former beauty and remain so for thousands of years to come.

For more info see www.wairereboulders.co.nz